RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED.

A Decision this Morning as to Whether the Two Associations Will Work Together.

It was under rather gloomy auspices There are 102 inmates in the peni-House yesterday morning, at the hour of 10 o'clock. It did not require a very discerning gaze to discover that some thing in the management had gone radically wrong. The two or three counties which sent full delegations, were represented by little knots of men, who stood apart and conversed together in low tones, with no very or diphtheria was reported yesterday.

Asorr 300 people came up from the south last night. According to the rates raid, they were all cattle women.

Mr. Danier Goodway in the case of the Opera House were occupied by a dozen or so loungers, who seemed to be waiting for something to turn up, and inside the building, not more than twenty people sat staring at the clean. cheerful countenances. The steps of

Dr. Faust was evidently worried and overworked. Of the reception committee appointed several days ago, not one was anywhere in sight. He was justly exasperated by the constantly arriving reports of those who stated without any great elation that they had had to pay the railroads full rates to get into town. To be Herald reporter the Bootor said the railroads had decided so late on according even half rates that the intelligence had not reached the most distant counties, and his an novance had been increased on learn-

The Eighth Quorum of Seventies will meet at the City Hall this evening (Friday) at 7:30 o'clock. All Seventies in Twelfth and Thirteenth wards are requested to attend.

The Grand Jury held a brief session yesterday and examined the following witnesses in the Musser case: Mary J. Warburton, Catherine Booth, Charles Brown and Mrs. Rideout.

Five sea hons passed over the D. & R. G. yesterday, consigned to Charles Beechie & Bro., New York. A barreid sea water accompanied them and was used in sprinkling the lions.

The Admission tickets for the Theatre witness The Herald Distribution, are now ready, and those holding numbers can get them by applying at the business office of this paper.

Surravisor Livingston and his force are hard at work grading Second South street from the depot up. Two blocks will be completed this week, and the three remaining blocks will be rushed through.

Rumor has it that a certain knight of the cleaver, claims to have information of the whereabouts of President John Taylor, and that he has offered to dispose of his knowledge for a certain consideration.

Much of our space is given up this morning to the movements in the stock interests prominently before the public our readers will all appreciate the importance of the proceedings and make allowance for the monopolization of our columns.

Mr. Dr. Hamiltons and Mrs. Elisworth Daggett, while riding in the former's buggy yesterday, were tiped out on Main street, though fortunately seither was in the least hurt. They were just pulling up the horse in front axie of the buggy snapped in two, letting them fall easily to the ground.

It was General Hunter, the National Association's president, who requested that Utah should organize. Secretary Atwater and General Bristin had both expected to be here, but both had been mexpectedly detained.

"One great aim of our meeting here in Utah," said Dr. Faust, "is to protect one another against the thief who has been so mighty in our midst, he has been rom out of other Territories, and I think he has taken-refuge here. and E. Q. Knowleton was elected temporary secretary; C. L. Fernon was elected assistant secretary. The chairman then asked all such as represented cattle associations, or desired to enroll themselves, to call out their names and the nineteen gentlemen named below responded. They comprise some heavy stock owners and prominent citizens, but numerically the result was anything but encouraging. The Rich County delegation of eight members sat somewhat gloomingly by itself in a corner, and neither handed in the names of its members nor took any other part in the morning's proceedings. Several gentlemen from Summit and adjoining counties equally abstained from figuring in the convention. The following are those who curoiled themselves during the morning session:

It was moved that Abram Hatch be permanent chairman. Carried.

Mr. Harch came upon the stage, and in a brief speech thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him. He trusted the meeting represented the majority of the cattle and horse interests of the Territory. This, however, would appear ater. This interest was second in Utah, he said, only to the mining, and it could yet be pushed a great deal farther. This, he thought, was a legitimate body—the only Territorial organization duly anthorized, and he hoped it would proceed in so conciliatory a manner that before it adjourned it would reconcile all factions and differences into one grand organization. Mr. Hatch's speech was greated with warm applause.

E. Q. Knowlron was cho sen permanent secretary and C. L. Prench assistant secretary.

Mm. Dykins, belonging to the Rich

The following gentlemen were appointed a committee to arrange an

H. J. Fanst, J. A. Bean, W. H. Seegmiller, J. C. Rich and E. D. Woolley. Mr. Faust pleaded the press of other duties, but the chairman said they came there to excuse no one, and with the remark that it was cruelly to animals, Mr. Faust subsided.

The name of B. H. Hillmouse was added to the roll, and an adjournment then taken until 2 o'clock; as the members filed out of the building they were met by a host of dodgers bearing this imprint: "Remember the meeting of the Utah Cattle and Horse Growers Association, to-morrow, Friday, April 3d, in the City Hall, at 10 o'clock a. m. All parties interested in the stock question are invited"—which did not serve to lighten the general spirits of the

At 2 o'clock it was evident that that there was a very general looking up in the interest, and an observer could easily perceive that some notable change had come over the spirit of the cattle men's dreams. It appears that MR. Harcu and several other leading spirits had held an informal consultation during recess, and that the troubles of the convention, the split, and several other matters had been looked squarely in the facq and handled without gloves. Such men as Hatch, Farr, Francis, Woolley, Hean, and others were not slow to recognize the fact that with Jennings, Grover, the McIntyres and other heavy stockmen working in another direction, the Teritorial organization could not assume the dim usions or exercise the usefulness which was hoped for it; it was also discovered that Rich County and gentlemen from 6ther counties adjoining Wasatch had come instructed not to enter the convention unless Mr. Hatch were elected president of the Territorial association. These, and other matters came up for consideration, but the proceedings of the afternoon session, will show that it had been determined to smooth all difficulties away in order to achieve the end most desired by all-the general good of the stock movement in Utah.

The afternoon proceedings were opened with alacrity by the reading of the minutes of the morning session. The committee on order of business then reported the following, and was discharged:

interest. Mr. Fales in the motion, which was received with applause.

Mr. Bron made a strong speech, referring to a personal difference between Mr. Jennings and Mr. Faust, but the stock interest, he said, should not be made to suffer because of either one or the other, or because such and such a man wanted to be president instead of such and such another. He strongly advocated unity, lavored the appointment of a committee to say to Mr. Jennings, "Your interests are our interests; let us be united."

Mr. Rich closed amid warm applause.

Mr. Fausr repediated the idea that he had made any split; he had only defeuded himself when attacked; if he stood in the way of the stock movement in Utah he would take his hat this instant and walk out; he seconded the motion to appoint a committee to confer with the other society with all his heart. He also closed amid a warm burst of applause.

Mr. Rybald and the following motion: That a committee of three be appointed to wait on the Utah and idaho association, the parent association with us.

Mr. Fare moved to strike out the words "parent association," as it was this association which should be the parent, and not tributary to any other.

Mr. Fare thought it mattered very little whether the Utah and Idaho was called the parent association or not.

Mr. Rybald supported his motion, and shid that had it not been for their membership in the Utah and Idaho was called the parent association or not.

ME. STEWART was allowed to withdraw his resolution on motion of Mr. Nebeker.

Mr. Faust moved that speakers be imited to five minutes. Carried.

Mr. A. Nebeker moved that no speaker be allowed to speak on any subject more than twice. Carried.

Mr. Rich attempted to speak, but there being no question he was ruled out of order and took his seat refuctantly.

Mr. Francis moved that a committee be appointed to draft resolutions embodying what legislation is necessary for the protection of the stock interest.

Mr. Francis, Mr. Fran, Mr. Wolley, Mr. Sekenilles, Mr. Francis, Mr. Francis and Mr. Nebeker spoke on the motion.

Mr. Hend made an address on the "town cow," which he said was educated in Sail Lake to open gates, and forage off her neighbors who had to bay her for milk; his highly farencal speech was immensely laughed at.

Mr. Franc said the Legislature had not proved itself a friend to the cattle interest, as it placed entirely too low a valuation on stock killed by the railroads. After considerable more talk a vote was taken and the motion of Mr. Evans, Mr. Francis and Mr. Jones were added to the committee on protection, appointed during the morning session.

A HEAVY AUXILIARY.

Mr. Jennings Goes Over From the Bell to the Molecular.

A reporter of THE HEBALD met Hon. Wm. Jennings, last evening, and asking him, as usual, whether there was any-thing new or not, received the following reply: "Yes, sir, there is. There is the new Telephone Company, and I mean to support it. You may say that much for me, cecidedly. When the Bell was first heard of in this city I was one of the projectors—got a right of way through the streets; and we were all rendy to begin operations when the eastern company took the whole thing away from us. They refused to allow me any stock in it, until I told them I had the right of way through the streets of Salt Lake and intended to hold it, when they gave me cight shares. This i kept until they commenced to make money and then they made me sell out. I received a notification the other day, that they would raise my telephone rent on April 1st. I have some to the conclusion that they have made about money enough out of me at least, and I have had them take the telephone out of my house. I shall now go in for the other and do the best I can to fight the Bell." So saying, he stamped off, with the very sign of grim satisfaction visible at the contest opening before his view. new Telephone Company, and I mean
